A Walk Through The Beauty Of Karpenisi,Greece

The environmental/e-twinning team of our school organized a trip through the beautiful and stunning mountaın Timfristos in Euritania. So, we decided to share our experiences through this presentation....

Our tour through the Old Small Village

The map of The Old Small Village

This village was destroyed by a rockslide in1963.Most of the village residents survived, as they were attending at the church. Residents, though, didn’t give up, and rebuilt their village from the beggining.That period, many people migrated to America and Instabul.One of the most important of them was the teacher of the village, who planted many trees after the rockslide. They built a statue near the church in his memory...

Flora Of Karpennisi, Greece

Here are some Plants we found in the forests of Karpennisi....

- Elevouro : Small plant that shows the coming of spring when it shows up. His poison can be used as a medicine for depression.
- Acacia : Deciduous tree which came from America. Some people believe that it is bad for the Flora of the area, but some people say that it is good for the ground.
- Lichens : Appears in clean environment only. They are very resistant , nearly immortal.

- Oak : Its fruit is delivered by birds that bury them in different places, promoting its spreading.
- Wadding : Barded plant. The myth says that one person, after having his clothes stolen, melted and turned into wedding...Since then he tries to take the passengers clothes with its branches.
- Anchovy : Bush which wood can be used for materials.
- The age of trees : It can be calculated by counting the perimeter of its trunk in cm and dividing it with its height.

The age of tree

- Fir : His fruit is aerodynamic, so it is easier to be delivered by the wind to somewhere else, making it easier to spread.
- Melas or Iksos : His roots are on other plants so as to absorb their juices.
- Melegos : When its peels get in the water, water takes a deep blue color. It is used as a medicine for animals and as a pigment.

The water that turns blue.

Founts of Small Village

- There are many founts in the forested area of Small Village, where visitors can take a rest and experience the magic of the surrounding landscape and quench their thirst drinking the crystal-clear water which comes straight from the peak of mountain Timfristos.
