Additional notes:

(1) Students: Classes may begin on any day during the first ten days of September. The exact date in each year is defined by the Minister of Education and Culture. In lower secondary education classes, the end of the school year may be on any day during the first seven days of June, in upper secondary education during the last ten days of May. The exact date is also defined by the Minister. In primary education, lessons begin on the second Monday of September and end on the Wednesday before the penultimate Friday of June.
(2) Teachers: In general secondary education, the end of the school year is at the end of June after exams, correction of papers, result announcements. The official teachers' school year is longer than student's school year in both primary and secondary education as it includes registration days, sorting out of schools and classes and exam periods. In secondary general education, according to the law, the official school year is from 1 September 2014 until 31 August 2015. Teachers in primary education need to be at school from the first Monday of September until the penultimate Friday of June.

Starting date of teachers' school year

End of teachers' school year

Not determined at central level - differs at the various schools / institutions. In general teachers start a few days before pupils/students.

Not determined at central level. Usually the teachers' school year follows that of the pupils/students.

Source: Eurydice.

Additional notes:

The above mentioned dates for the Folkeskole are a sample from two municipalities from two different regions, as the dates vary slightly on a national scale. For instance, the winter/carnival holiday depends on the municipality which usually decides whether the holiday is in week 7 or 8 . The dates for upper secondary education are taken from Solrød Gymnasium ( ${ }^{1}$ ).
Folkeskole, schools offering comprehensive primary and lower secondary education, are free to decide on the number of holidays and their distribution, given that they offer a minimum of 200 school days each year. The Ministry of Education determines the last day of the school year, which is the case for both primary, lower secondary and general upper secondary education. In addition, the Ministry may also issue guidelines regarding the distribution of holidays.
The Constitution Day (Grundlovsdag) is not a public holiday. However, some schools are closed on this day while others are open.

Additional notes:

The Basic Schools and Upper Secondary Schools Act stipulates that an academic year shall start on 1 September and a study period shall include not less than 175 days of study ( 35 weeks). School holidays (and accordingly the end of the school year) are determined by a regulation of the Minister of Education for every school year.

Additional notes:

Independence day, Epiphany and 1 May are deducted from the total number of school days (190 days) if they are on any weekday other than Saturday. In the school year 2014/15, the number of school days will consequently be 188.
${ }^{1}$ ) There are no exact starting and ending dates of teachers' school year because their duties are regulated according to the collective agreement for teachers. In the agreement, the parties have agreed that the teachers have a calculatory holiday, which begins in mid-June and the length of holiday depends mainly on years in occupation. In practice, teachers' holidays coincide with students' holidays. However, teachers have their planning and INSET obligations, which they have to do both during and outside the school year. In general teachers start a school year a couple days before students.

Additional notes:

According to the Act on Public Education, the minister responsible for education specifies the schedule of the academic year in a ministerial decree. The Act stipulates that the school year starts on the first working day of September every year and finishes on the last working day prior to 16 June.
Thus schools have no autonomy in changing the first and last day of the school year but they have some autonomy in giving extra holidays before or after public holidays or school holidays for practical reasons (e.g. if a public holiday falls on a Thursday, the school may give Friday as holiday) if they provide teaching on a regular resting day (weekend) instead.
In addition to compulsory school days (181 days in basic schools and 180 days in upper-secondary schools), schools also have five (in basic schools) or six (in upper-secondary schools) non-teaching days for educational purposes.
Holidays at schools providing minority education may differ from the above described school holidays to celebrate national traditions.

* Act No. XXXIII of 1992 on the legal status of public servants and the Government Decree No. 326/2013 stipulate that the holidays of teachers primarily have to be given during the summer holiday. If not all days can be taken during that, the rest has to be provided during the autumn, winter or spring holidays or teaching days. (For teachers the autumn, winter and spring holidays are regarded as workdays without teaching).

Additional notes:

Primary Education

1 In order to meet the overall requirement of 183 days at primary level, the school year will normally commence in the week that 1 September falls. The exact date is determined locally at Board of Management level.
2 School may use their own discretion to determine the precise ending of the school year in June, providing it has met the overall requirement of 183 days.
3 Primary school may use 3 discretionary days to extend their Winter/Carnival break to an alternative option of a 5 day break.
Circular 0016/2014 sets out the standardised school breaks at primary and post-primary level for the school years 2014/15, 2015/16 and 2016/17.

IRELAND (CONTINUED)

The arrangements for standardised closure at primary level (Circular 0016/2014) are agreed without prejudice to closure on specific days, within the overall requirement of 183 days at primary level, dictated by religious observance that is required in schools under patronage of different denominations or faiths. In the absence of an adequate number of discretionary days a school authority may choose to utilise a religious observation day for non-tuition purpose when planning the school year.
The existing arrangements for school breaks may provide some limited flexibility to schools on certain other days outside of the defined periods. The scheduling of such days must not be used to extend or modify the period set out above in respect of mid-term, Christmas and Easter breaks save where a school has been affected by extensive or prolonged school closures or religious observance requirements of a school under a particular patronage makes this necessary.
It was not a requirement of this agreement that the commencement or end of the school year either at primary or post primary level should be standardised.

General Secondary

In accordance with Circular M29/95, the minimum number of teaching days per post-primary school will be 167. In addition, in accordance with Circular 0016/2014, holiday periods during the school year have been standardised, i.e. midterm breaks, Christmas and Easter holidays. Traditionally, formal instruction ends in post-primary schools on the Friday preceding the June bank holiday weekend. State examinations normally commence the following Wednesday. In order for schools to meet their requirement to be open for 167 days during $2014 / 15$ school year, it is expected that postprimary schools will be open circa 26 August 2014.
The above holidays are standardised in accordance with Circular 0016/2014. The school year at post-primary level is very tight and does not allow for any additional holidays, as schools must comply with the minimum number of 167 days. In fact, in recent years, since the standardised school calendar, many schools which would have traditionally opened on 1 September are now opening in late August in order to meet their full complement of days. There is more flexibility at primary school level, as they are not restricted by the end of year State exams.

Additional notes:

Schools can adjust the school calendar, established by the Regions, to the POF's requirements (the POF is the basic document of the cultural and planning identity of each school. It defines the curricular, extra-curricular, educational and organisational projects of each school). Schools can organise in a flexible way the overall and single-subject timetable, provided that lessons spread over a minimum of five days per week and that the prescribed number of hours for the single subjects is complied with. The school year begins between the 2nd and the 4th week of September and finishes between the 1st and the 3rd week of June. The school adaptations of the school time should guarantee at least 200 days of lesson in the school year.

According to school autonomy, schools have up to 5 or 6 days available, which are foreseen for the suspension of educational activities.

Additional notes:

Lower secondary education (Basic education): end of the school year for the 9th class: 12 June 2015.
Upper secondary education: end of the school year for the 12th class: 19 June 2015.
The school year is divided in two semesters: the first from 1 September to 19 December 2014 and the second from 5 January to 29 May 2015 (or 12 June for the 9th class and 19 June for the 12th class).
Education institutions decide when to carry out an additional 1 week long holidays in the second semester for the 1st class.
Education institutions decide when to carry out a 1 week long project week in the second semester.
Extension of the school year for classes 1-8 and 10-11 may be made if specific circumstances hindering education process arise during the school year (e.g. extreme temperature, strike, emergency situation in school, etc.).
Holidays (summer 2015): These are the dates for the official summer holiday period for classes 1-8 and 10-11.
Public holidays: When the specific holidays of 18 November (Proclamation of the Republic of Latvia) and 4 May (Restoration of Independence of the Republic of Latvia) fall on Saturday or Sunday, the holiday is transferred to the next working day.
Teachers: The teachers' school year concurs fully with students' year, but normally is longer and starts earlier, though the end and the start date is not defined officially. Teachers have the right to receive 8 weeks of paid annual leave in summer.

Additional notes:

Half-yearly examinations take place between 9 and 13 February 2015 for pupils in the last three years of primary school and between 3 and 13 February 2015 for secondary school students.

The Annual Examinations take place between 24 and 26 June 2015 for primary school pupils and between 11 and 26 June 2015 for secondary school students.
Students of Year 6 in primary schools sit for End-of-Primary Benchmark Assessments held between 27 and 28 May (oral components) and between 29 May and 3 June 2015 (for the written components).

Teachers are required to attend in-service training (INSET) for three days either prior to the beginning of the school year or immediately at the end of the school year. This training is held on 15, 16 and 17 September 2014 and on 7, 8 and 9 July 2015.

Teachers who attend INSET courses in September 2014 start their school year on 15 September 2014. Teachers who attend INSET courses in July 2015 end their school year on 9 July 2015.
During the month of June schools are on half-days.

Additional notes:

The school year officially runs from 1 August to 31 July of the following year. Start and end of the school year of the individual schools is according to the region (Northern, Central and Southern region).
Dates for the summer holidays are decided by the Ministry; the holiday period is staggered over 3 regions (compulsory dates for all schools); also dates for Christmas holidays and May holidays are decided by the Ministry; other holidays are recommended by the Ministry.
A balanced distribution of teaching time is important in the Netherlands. Schools have the opportunity to deviate from the recommended data, but they have to take into account the wishes and expectations of the parents/caregivers.

- *) In the Netherlands Carnival holiday is called Spring Holiday or Crocus Holiday
- If the recommended period for the Spring Holiday does not fit with Carnival week; it can be expected that schools, especially in the Southern areas of the Netherlands, will not follow the recommendations and will close for Carnival.
The teachers' school year is similar to the students' school year. However, it is at the school's discretion to decide whether teachers are expected to end or start later (in order to attend meetings, for preparation of timetable, other non-teaching activities etc.)

Additional notes:

For the primary schools can the municipality decide individually the school holidays, as the counties can decide for the upper secondary schools.
The teachers' work during the school year is counted in working hours. That is 1300 hours for primary education (ISCED 1), 1225 hours for lower secondary education (ISCED 2) and 1150 hours for upper secondary education. It is an individual matter for each school if the work hours, longer than for the students, are before the beginning or after the end of the school year.

Additional notes:

1. The schools and the School Inspectorates will mark with specific events the following days:

- 5 October 2013 = World Teachers' Day
- 5 June 2014 = Primary Teacher's Day

2. The week 6-10 April 2015 in the second semester is dedicated to extracurricular and extra-school activities, within the programme Other kind of school: Know more, Be better! [Școala altfel: Să știi mai multe, să fii mai bun!], with a specific timetable.
3. In exceptional situations, depending on the local climatic conditions and school's specificity, the organisation of the school year can be modified at the request of schools, approved by the regional education authorities (County School Inspectorate). Approval is given if the number of 177 school days ( 36 weeks) is maintained and all pupils may participate without restrictions in national examinations.

Slovenia has a single structure compulsory school of nine years.
For students, the school year officially runs from 1 September to 31 August, however, the lessons end in June.

For teachers, the school year begins 10 to 15 days before the students start school and lasts until the beginning or mid-July. The precise length depends on the days of annual leave allocated to an individual ( 22 to 35 days) and tasks and obligations appointed by the school head.

Additional notes:

Sweden has a single structure compulsory school (9 years) with no differences between stages. Starting and finishing dates vary on regional and municipality levels, dates here are indicative.
Teachers usually start their work earlier for planning etc. Continuous professional development (CPD) is the responsibility of the employer and it can take place when the pupils are in school or not.

Additional notes:

In primary and general secondary education, a school year must contain at least 180 days. A school year runs 9 months from September to June.
A school year is divided into two parts: at the end of a semester, there is a two-week holiday, called mid-school year holiday. The summer holidays are between June and September. Decisions on ending/starting semester dates are made by the Ministry.

Additional notes: Traditionally, the school year is divided into three terms, each of which is divided into two half terms separated by a half term holiday. The dates of school holidays are normally planned to take into account and cover most national public holidays including Easter, although a minority of schools operate a standardised year.
The length of the school year, 380 half day sessions, is laid down centrally but the actual dates are not. These are set, depending on the legal category of the school, by the local authority (LA) or school governing body. The decision is taken at school level in voluntary aided schools and foundation schools. Otherwise LAs regulate the school year, and the table shows the most common patterns for term dates and holidays set by LAs.
Teachers are required to be available for five additional days when pupils are not present, i.e. for 195 days in total.
In England, the recent growth in the number of academies means that approximately 70 per cent of secondary and 30 per cent of primary schools in England are responsible for setting their own term dates. Academies and free schools also have responsibility for determining the length of their school year.
Some English local authorities have recommended that schools with a significant number of pupils who will be celebrating religious festivals (for example Eid-Ul-Adha, Eid-Ul-Fitr, Guru Nanak's birthday, Diwali) should consider making these optional closure days.
In March 2014, the Welsh Assembly passed legislation (the Education (Wales) Act 2014) which will require local authorities and school governing bodies to co-operate and co-ordinate with each other to ensure that the dates for the school term are the same (or as close as possible to being the same) for every maintained school in Wales. It also gives Welsh Ministers the power to direct local authorities and the governing bodies of voluntary aided and foundation schools on the term dates they set. This is to achieve harmonisation of school term dates if local authorities and the governing bodies of voluntary aided and foundation schools have been unable to agree on term dates, or if the term dates which have been agreed need to be altered. As school term dates as set at least two years in advance, the first harmonised term dates will be for the year 2016/2017.

Additional notes: Schools are required to be in operation for 200 days. The number of days that pupils are taught in the classroom may vary from 185 to 190 days when optional closing days, teacher training days and School Development Days (SDDs) are taken into account. Decisions on when to take these days are set, depending on the legal category of the school, by the Education and Library Board (ELB) or boards of governors. The five optional closing days may be taken as an extension to the Easter, Christmas or summer holidays or to cover closure in exceptional circumstances, for example, the death of someone connected with the school or a planned event such as a move to new premises/building work or a religious holiday. Teachers are required to be available for work on 195 days, of which no more than 190 days should involve teaching children in the classroom. The remaining five non-contact days are used for training purposes. Schools may also avail themselves of up to five School Development Days (SDDs) for the purpose of school improvement and school/staff development. For further information see Circular 2013/09.

    * The end of students' school year in grade 5 (first year of lower secondary education) is on 29 May 2015 and grade 12 (last year of upper secondary education) is on 28 May 2015.
     Additional 2-week holidays are allocated to pupils of grades 1 to 5 . It is required that the school agreed additional holidays with parents and school council. At national level, it is recommended that additional holidays would coincide with 6-12 grades winter holidays.
     Summer holidays for students in grade 5 start on 1 June 2015 and grade 12 on 29 May 2015.
    * The annual amount of leave for teachers is legislated as 56 calendar days. Normally, it is recommended that teachers take their annual leave during school summer holidays (i.e. teachers' leave is normally determined by the school calendar).

[^3]:    Additional notes:
    In addition, the school head has the possibility to determine some extra days off (up to 6 days for primary schools, basic vocational schools, post-secondary schools, continuous education institutions; up to 8 days for lower secondary schools; up to 10 days for upper secondary schools) that may be devoted to external tests and exams and/or religious festivals not being registered as official public holidays.
    Teacher holiday period altogether is 47 days. The school head may oblige a teacher to work for the benefit of their school for 7 days over their summer or winter holidays. In addition, during the summer holidays teachers carry out tasks related to recruitment and exam procedures.
